Get Ready Now For Winter Driving By 'De-Sludging'

It's a little warm right now, but winter will soon be here, and this is about the best time for you to get your car ready for winter driving. By "De-Sludging" all the old oil, carbon, etc., that has accumulated and keeps your car from giving the best of service, is removed and all parts are put in smooth working condition. We have the material for this important work and NOW is the time to have it done.

We have oil Filter Cartridges to fit all models.

GET BETTER LIGHTS

If you are still using old model lighting system, you need to get a "SEAL-BEAM ADAPTER" which will change over your lights to the modern system. We have these Seal-Beam Sets for Chevrolet, 33-35 models; Model A Fords, 30-34; also 35-36 Model Fords. Come in and let us tell you more about this unit.

JOE MCKINNEY TELLS ABOUT BEING WOUNDED
AT CALCUTTA, INDIA

Joe R. McKinney, S-1c, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKinney, of Opp Rt. 3, enlisted in the U. S. Navy June 18, 1942.
He took his first boot training at Camp Peary, California. He then went to San Francisco, where he attended gunners' school. After completing his training, he went to sea on his first short trip to Nome, Alaska, where he spent six weeks.
After returning to Camp Peary, Calif., he sailed for O-yres.

Joe has been to several places before being sent to the Caymans of them are: Hawaiian Islands, England, Australia, New Guinea, and then to India. He stated in one of his letters that he saw people lying in the streets in India, perished to death.
The following is a letter Joe wrote to his mother telling about his ship being bombed. He was on the John Brought, a destroyer:

"Dear Mom:
We were in port at Calcutta, India, Sunday, Sept.
5, 1943, about noon, when we were all on deck when we heard the planes. We thought they were our planes, so we were standing there with our mouths open looking at them. The next thing we knew all hell broke loose, so naturally the gunners manned the guns (including me.) There were 30 in the first wave, then 20 more came over, low down, then is when we got it. They dropped shrapnel bombs, and hit right on the bridge of the ship, killing 3 and wounding 9. It was all over before we knew about it. I knocked me off the ship and I fell 50 feet, breaking my arm and leg. I got a piece of iron in my leg. I swam a quarter of a mile after this happened and it was night before they got me to a doctor.

"Mom, I've never been drunk but once in my life, it was then they gave me a quart of whiskey. I spent four months in the hospital in India. My wounds didn't heal any while I was there because of the climate. The Japs bombed our hospital twice while I was there and I hurt my leg over.

The doctors and nurses over there are wonderful people; they really were good to me. They know what a guy has to go through with over there.

Your loving son,
Joe.

Joe is now in a naval hospital in Long Beach, Calif., where he underwent an operation. He says he can walk a little on crutches and feels fine all the time. He hopes to be home for Christmas, as he hasn't been home since he has been in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney have another son, James L.
McKinney, S-2c, who enlisted in the Navy May 8, 1944. James took his boot training at Camp Peary, Va. He is now in Hawaiian Islands in a naval air base.

He says it is a nice place and more like home than any place he's been so far, but says there's no place like Alabama.—Contributed

RELIGION IN THE LIFE OF A NATION

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory, Isaiah 60:19.

"Righteousness exalts a nation" (Prov. 14:34). True religion is vital to the life of a nation and is the only foundation for national stability and growth. David, the man after God's own heart, knew this, and was not content that the ark of God, the center of the nation's worship, should be without a suitable house. He was not one to be content with a fine palace for his own comfort while the ark of God had a temporary abiding place within curtained walls (v. 2).

Although the prophet Nathan encouraged him in his plan (v. 3), David was not content that the ark of God, the center of the nation's worship, should be without a suitable
tent with a fine palace for his own
comfort while the ark of God had a temporary abiding place within
curtained walls (v. 2).

1. Receive God's Grace (v. 18-22). The great Davidic covenant, which is yet to have its final fulfillment in David's greater son, the Lord Jesus, was made with him at this time. It was promised that the throne of his kingdom was to be established forever (v. 13-15), a promise which is fulfilled in Christ.
But there was also the great promise of blessing upon David's son Solomon, and the reminder of David's grace upon David, the one brought up from the shepherds to be king (v. 9).

In humility of heart David received this grace and thanked God for it. Note such expressions as "What an I?" "What is my house?"
"What can David say more?" and "For thy word's sake thou hast done these great things." David knew and admitted his unworthiness; he realized that this was indeed unmerited favor from God, but he accepted it as God's gift.

2. Recognize God's Power (v.
23-25). Israel had seen the mighty hand of God at work on their behalf repeatedly, since the day God had brought them forth out of Egypt.
God had literally redeemed them for himself, a purchased possession.
That redemption was not only natural but spiritual—they were all free from the gods of Egypt (v. 23) and confirmed to the Lord (v. 24).

It is a great and noble thing when a nation recalls its past and thanks God for His powerful hand upon it.
The psalmist has been said to be a nation which does not remember its past will not have a future worth remembering, and when it forgets the God who redeemed it, it forgets that it is the God of the nations as well as of individuals.

3. Rest in God's Promise (v.
25-27). "As thou hast said." That is a perfect prayer for any nation. Let the will of God be done, and all will be well—and in the future.

There is nothing more certain than that God will keep His promise.
About doubting God's promise or limiting Him in fulfilling it. It glorifies God and magnifies His name to take Him at His word and to confidently expect Him to fulfill meet His promise. To do anything else is to reflect on His power and His integrity.

It was the prayer of David that the Lord's name might be magnified forever in the keeping of the covenant which He had made with him. That squarely put all of the authority and dependability of God behind the keeping of the promise.
David found peace of heart there.
May not we do likewise, resting on the promises of God?

4. Rejoice in God's Blessing (v. 28, 29). David praised God for the assurance that His words were true, and claimed the promise of a blessing upon his house. That it may continue forever before the eyes of all men, he prayed.

He evidently saw beyond the promise in Solomon to the coming of Christ (cf. vv. 18, 19; Rom. 4:5-8). And his heart leaped for joy at the unthinkable hope which had been spoken to him.

This is substantiated by the translation of verse 19 by the Hebrew scholar Adam Clarke: "O Lord God, thou hast spoken thy servant's name house for a great while to come, and has regarded me in the arrangement about the MAN that is to be born above, O God Jehovah."

Little wonder, then, that David raised his voice and heart in praise and worship. His "adoration and thanksgiving at the revelation of this great truth is beautiful. Its humility, faith, and gratitude reach down to the heart of man since Moses" (James M. Gray).

Rev. W. G. De Shazo de-ivered the welcome address and dismissed one hour for lunch. A beautiful feast was spread under the pines in the schoolhouse yard which all enjoyed. Friends as well as neighbors were welcomed to the table to eat of the good food the ladies prepared.

The afternoon session opened with Bob Herring singing three songs. Then the following leaders sang one song each: Kendal Crook, Earl Stone, Mildred Head, Mrs. J. L. Pool, Billy Lowery, Sam Thomas, Jack Lowery, Nell Sanders, Lex Tindol, Raymond Wood, Joe Sanders, Mrs. James Tindol,

IN ADDITION TO FUNDAMENTALS

As sincere, capable mentors of our profes-with a fine palace for his own comfort while the ark of God had a temporary abiding place within

curtained walls (v. 2).

Although the prophet Nathan en-

KENDRICK-DICKER
WEDDING SOLEMNIZED
AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Mary Will Kendrick, of Elba, and Flight Officer Hubert Brundage, of Birmingham, were married at a ceremony in the Elba Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, September 18, 1944.

The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. O. M. Fox, pastor of the church, officiating, using the double ring ceremony, and was assisted by Minister J. C. Dixon of the Church of Christ.

The decorations which were in the color note of green and white, were centered about the chancel and altar. Banked with ferns and amaranth made a background of rich greenery against which candles each burning seven candles.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle with a wide collar and long sleeves. Her hair was styled in a simple, elegant manner.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and bow tie. He carried a sword and a boutonniere.

The bride's bouquet was composed of white roses and lilies. She also carried a handkerchief and a small bag.

The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, best man, maid of honor, and bridesmaids.

The ceremony was a simple and beautiful one, and all present enjoyed it very much.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. There was a large gathering of friends and relatives.
